Re: Badge Identification System

Staff was approached by Chief Gerber to see if each of the EFD JPA Cities would contribute $200 toward a badge identification system. This badge system would allow public safety to produce badges for authorized personnel in case of an emergency. Also, there would be badges produced for all public works officials as well.

The total cost of the badge ID system is $17,000. SLMPD is contributing $12,000 and the EFD has proposed $3,000 out of their undesignated donations fund (statement attached).

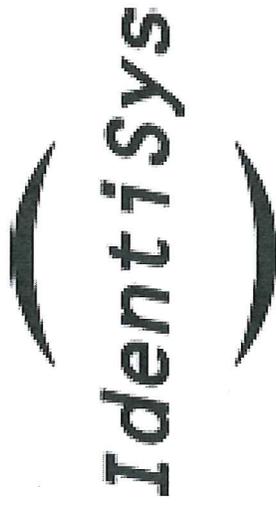

If each of the member cities contributes $200, that would leave approximately $1,000 left to raise for the badge ID system.

*Attached is an excerpt from a power point that Chief Litsey prepared.
Attached is a snapshot of the EFD undesignated donation fund.*

Note: except for the $200, all other numbers are approximate and subject to change.*

Council Action to Consider:

Motion to approve contributing $200 for the badge identification system.

Practical Applications

- When the Homeland Security Presidential Directive 12 (HSPD-12) was issued in August 2004, it set in motion a concerted effort by the U.S. Government to define new standards for highly secure personal identification cards.
- IdentiSys provides government agencies with secure technologies to produce tamper-resistant identification cards tracked through resourceMGR software.
- IdentiSys also provides rapidTag on-scene badging for mass incidents or disasters. It allows people at the scene to be quickly issued an incident-specific badge complete with site permissions, expiration date and a fireTRAX compatible barcode for electronic accountability.
